

Awards for Audi FSI technology and Tom Kristensen

Audi has won the "Technology Award" from Britain's Autocar specialist magazine for its FSI technology pioneered at Le Mans. The FSI technology was developed by Audi and used during the Le Mans victories in 2001 and 2002 and is now available on the A2 1.6 FSI and A4 2.0 FSI roadcars.

A further award has been given to Audi works driver Tom Kristensen: England's Motorsport News voted the winner of the American Le Mans Series 2002 (ALMS) "Sportscar driver of the year 2002".